Sub-Registrar Offices resume work after Kaveri 2.0 portal restored

Mysuru, Feb. 6 (BLU&VNS)- The registration of properties, marriages and other documents, which was affected for the past one week owing to stoppage of Kaveri 2.0 software due to Distributed Denial of Service (DDoS) attack, has resumed since yesterday.

DDoS is a cybercrime in which the attacker floods a server with internet traffic to prevent users from accessing connected online services and sites.

People, who were troubled as they were unable to procure Encumbrance Certificate (EC), registered documents among others over a few days, heaved a sigh of relief with recommencement of registration works. Not only the general public but also those dependent on people coming to Sub-Registrar Office, such as the document and deed writers, photocopy shop owners, petty shop owners among others, were also affected with no business.

A lady getting herself photographed for document registration at Sub-Registrar Office in Mini Vidhana Soudha this morning.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, Yashasvini, Sub-Registrar (Mysuru South), said that the works had resumed with people getting their ECs and also taking up registrations. "There was a technical issue for the past one week. But now, it has been resolved and routine works are being carried out," she said.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

ACTIONS HAVE CONSEQUENCES: People undertake various activities to derive comfort. The activities may differ, but the objective remains the same. Why do not all get the expected comfort or benefit? The reason is the effect of karma. An oft-repeated, unjustifiable and adamant argument is that when everything is pre-decided by destiny, can a person remain without performing anything to derive comfort or pleasure? We cannot be without making efforts that arise automatically in our minds out of the influence of the same karma.

Specific unwanted, unexpected and unpleasant happenings may occur in a man's life, such as contracting a disease, incurring loss, or having an accident. No one relishes these, but they become inevitable. Scriptures say they may be the outcome of some harmful deeds committed before.

Sri Muralidhara Swamigal said in a discourse that Saint Ramalinga Adigal (Vallalar) had listed some of the ill deeds for our sake and awareness. They are: whether he made the minds of good people shiver and tremble; whether he prevented people from giving to charity or donating; whether he was treacherous with his friends; whether he made the stomach of poor people burn; whether underpaid labourers for their work; whether indulged in back-biting and disturbed any family; whether betrayed any person; whether failed to revere Guru out of disobedience; whether caged birds; whether disrespected and transgressed the words of father or mother; whether degraded the godly and pious men; or whether made inane slanders on God out of sheer ignorance and infatuation. He says he did not know what sin he had committed.—In The Hindu

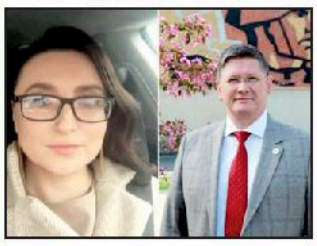
The world's longest car has 26 wheels!

New York: Built from six 1976 Cadillac El Dorado limousines, The American Dream is over 30 metres long, has 26 wheels and has enough interior space to fit up to 75 people. It's not the easiest vehicle to manoeuvre, though.

Originally built in 1986 by car collector and customizer, Jay Ohrbeg, The American Dream measured 18.28 mts (60 feet) and was powered by a pair of V8 engines, one at the front and another at the rear. Ohrberg later extended his vehicle to a whopping 30.5 metres (100 feet) long. Guinness acknowledged The American Dream as the world's longest car in 1986 and the giant limousine was featured on the cover of several magazines, television shows and in movies, but its meteoric rise to fame was followed by an abrupt drop in popularity. It ended up abandoned at the back of a New Jersey warehouse for decades until a pair of automotive enthusiasts bought it and restored it to its former glory.

Mayor loses re-election to his driver's wife



Berezovsky: The Mayor of Berezovsky shockingly lost the recent local elections to a "puppet candidate" who happens to be his subordinate and the wife of his personal driver.

The re-election of Yevgeny Pistsov, who was trying to secure a fourth consecutive term as Mayor, seemed little more than a formality, as he was running against a fellow member of Vladimir Putin's United Russia political party who also happened to be a subordinate of his and the wife of his personal driver. No one expected Yulia Maslakova to win, she even told reporters that she ran as a "sparring partner" for Pistov, but the impossible happened and now she is doing everything in her power to avoid being sworn in as Mayor.

Russian media reported that, out of the 23 deputies, 17 voted for Maslakova and only six for Pitsov. When the result was announced, no one was more shocked than the winner.

Non-functional traffic signal lights

Sir,

This is to bring to the notice of the authorities concerned regarding the non-functional traffic signal lights at Akka Mahadevi Road Junction in JP Nagar. No action whatsoever has been taken on this matter till date.

The traffic signal lights were installed more than eight months back, but are not being switched on regularly now in spite of being found to be in working condition.

They were switched on for only a few hours on 3 or 4 days. One fails to understand the reason for non-functioning of signal lights.

This is proving to be a big risk to both motorists and pedestrians alike. Also, there is utter chaos at any given time at this junction, with both motorists and pedestrians vying for space.

It is learnt that the contractor has not been paid his dues for maintenance of traffic signals.

I urge the authorities to prioritise this issue and take immediate steps to make the traffic signal operational. The safety of numerous drivers and pedestrians depend on proper functioning of traffic control measures.

Four-wheeler owner receives Police notice to pay fine for violating traffic rule, for third time in a row; His offence - 'Not wearing helmet while at wheels' !

Mysuru, Feb. 6- A four-wheeler owner has received a notice for violating traffic rules, for driving without wearing helmet, that has left him in a tizzy yet again, over how the folly of the Police continues to land him in a tricky situation, with solution eluding him.

Mohammed Mushahid, a resident of the city, who owns a high-end four-wheeler bearing registration number KA09-MF-7191, has received a e-challan dated Jan. 7, 2025, on his mobile phone, for the third time in a row, to pay a fine of Rs. 500 towards the violation under section 133 of Indian Motor Vehicle (IMV) Act, for not wearing the helmet at Garudagambha Circle in K.R. Nagar town.

Strangely, he has to pay a total fine amount of Rs. 1,500 for not wearing helmet — twice on the same day (Jan. 7, 2025 at K.R. Nagar's Garudagambha Circle) and on Dec. 27, 2024 at the same Circle. Once he had also received a notice for driving without wearing seat belt.

Police notice that was sent to the owner of the above vehicle.

Caught off-guard, following the multiple notices issued by the Police, Mushahid contacted them, only to be coolly told 'to pay the fine first and think next over how the blunder may have occurred.'

If it was for once, the blunder could have been passed off without a blink, but for three times, which raises suspicion over the possibilities of either a technical error, following the introduction of AI-based cameras at traffic junctions or any miscreants, using the same number plate for a two-wheeler, and riding according to their merry, at the cost of Mushahid.

The Police, instead of taking corrective measures, advise Mushahid to pay the fine first, adducing at the lack of common sense in them.

No 15th Finance Commission grants of Rs. 70 crore to MCC

Funds denied due to lack of elected MCC Council; City development works severely affected

Mysuru, Feb. 6 (RK&BCT)- Already grappling with a severe financial crisis, the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) faces another setback as the State Government has made it clear that the annual grant from the 15th Finance Commission — ranging between Rs. 65 crore and Rs. 70 crore — will not be disbursed in the absence of elected representatives.

On Jan. 29, the Directorate of Municipal Administration sent a letter to the MCC Commissioner, stating that a meeting held on Jan. 18, chaired by Government Secretaries and Project Directors, confirmed that Mysuru and 43 other Urban Local Bodies (ULBs) are ineligible for the grant in the financial year 2024-25 due to the absence of elected Councils and representatives, as per Finance Commission guidelines.

As a result, these 43 ULBs, including MCC, have been explicitly directed not to undertake any projects under the 15th Finance Commission grants for the financial year.

Impacting development

This decision severely impacts MCC and other local bodies such as Bogadi Town Panchayat, Hootagalli City Municipal Council, Kadakola Town Panchayat, Rammanahalli Town Panchayat and Srirampura Town Panchayat, which will now have to operate without the crucial financial assistance.

In the previous years, the Government would issue letters every January instructing ULBs to prepare estimates and complete tender processes for various projects under the 15th Finance Commission grant.

However, with no special financial grant available this year and a clear directive barring projects under this grant, the MCC and other ULBs are struggling to initiate development projects.

Since the 15th Finance Commission mandates that grants cannot be disbursed to local bodies without elected representatives, 43 ULBs, including Mysuru, have lost their special grant for the financial year 2024-25.

Other ULBs also affected

Additionally, the Directorate of Municipal Administration has informed Commissioners of ULBs and Project Directors of District Urban Development Cells (DUDCs) across multiple districts — including Bengaluru Rural, Bengaluru Urban, Belagavi, Bagalkot, Chikkamagaluru, Dakshina Kannada, Davanagere, Haveri, Kalaburagi, Kolar, Ramanagara, Shivamogga, Tumakuru, Udupi, Uttara Kannada and Vijayapura — that the 15th Finance Commission grant will not be released due to the absence of elected representatives.

Meanwhile, MCC's financial situation remains dire, with no funds forthcoming from the Karnataka Government. Compounding the crisis, it has also failed to receive grants from any Centrally sponsored schemes.

The MCC is facing a severe financial crisis, struggling to manage essential city operations — such as providing drinking water, street lighting, sewer maintenance, park upkeep, sanitation and roadworks — entirely from its own resources. These resources include Property Taxes, Water Taxes, Trade Licence fees, commercial road fees, and advertisement rentals.

Pending bills

The financial situation has deteriorated to such an extent that, even after completing development projects, the MCC has been unable to clear dues owed to contractors for years. With the 15th Finance Commission grant no longer available, the situation is expected to worsen.

Under 15th Finance Commission scheme, MCC received an annual grant of Rs. 65 crore to Rs. 70 crore. Preparations for disbursement were typically made in January and necessary projects across city's 65 wards were completed by April-May. Now, with lack of funds, the civic body is struggling to maintain the city and initiate new projects.

Undermines spirit of Constitution

"This is a major setback for Mysuru's overall development and maintenance. The special grant played a crucial role in facilitating several development projects across all 65 Wards. However, due to lack of elections for the Corporation and other local bodies, this vital grant is now being missed. The State Government is directly responsible for this situation. Given the current circumstances, the MCC can't undertake any new projects. The Government must seriously reconsider this decision and announce elections for MCC Council without delay. If the intention is to uphold the aspirations of the Constitution within a democratic system, it must adhere to the principle of decentralisation of power. Continuing with centralised governance would undermine equality, social justice and the very spirit of Constitution."

— Shivakumar, former Mayor

Special grants to be sought

"The MCC Council, comprising elected representatives, must approve fund allocations. As a result, there is currently no possibility of receiving funds from the 15th Finance Commission. On Tuesday, officials from the State Finance Commission visited the MCC and indicated that Finance Commission funds may become available once the elected Council is constituted. However, there is no certainty regarding the disbursal of these funds. For the 2023-24 fiscal year, since an elected Council was in place until November 2023, the allocated funds will be received. However, for 2024-25, due to the absence of an elected Council, Finance Commission funds remain unavailable. Given this situation, a request will be made to the State Chief Secretary for special grants from the State Government to ensure the completion of ongoing projects. Additionally, efforts are being made to recover outstanding Property Tax dues from large defaulters as part of MCC's resource mobilisation strategy."

— Shaikh Tanveer Asif, MCC Commissioner

Day 5: Kodava Peace March nears Madikeri

Walk ends tomorrow at Kodava Samaja Mandh, General K.S. Thimayya Stadium

Madikeri, Feb. 6 (BCT)- The fifth day of the 82-km 'Kodavaame Baalo Padayatra,' a peace march from Kutta to Madikeri aimed at preserving the unique culture and traditions of the Kodava community and Kodava language-speaking groups, began this morning from Nellimani near Murnad.

Since its launch on Feb. 2, the march has gained momentum, with thousands of men, women, and children clad in traditional attire joining in. More participants continue to pour in from villages along the route, turning the event into a large-scale cultural movement.

The march began from Kutta on Feb. 2 and reached T. Shettigeri on the first day. On Feb. 3, it continued to Ponnampet, and on Feb. 4, the marchers walked from Ponnampet to Bittangala via Gonikoppa. Last evening, they reached Bethri village in Madikeri Taluk, covering 62.8 km and halting at Nellimani.

The fourth day's march passed through Virajpet Taluk Centre, Kadanoor (Kakkabe road junction), Kakotuparambu, Bethri, and concluded at Nellimani. Kodava community members from Madikeri Taluk welcomed the marchers from South Kodagu at the bridge over the River Cauvery at Bethri.

On the fifth day today, the march started from Nellimani, passing through Murnad, Hakkattur, and Kaggodlu, and will reach Mekeri village. On the sixth and final day, Feb. 7 (tomorrow), the march will reach Madikeri from Mekeri in the morning.

Massive crowd expected tomorrow

The rally will conclude with the submission of a memorandum to the State Government through the Kodagu district administration at the Madikeri Kodava Samaja Mandh, located in General K.S. Thimayya Stadium and Grounds (Mann's Compound).

With hundreds of vehicles expected to arrive in Madikeri tomorrow, organisers are coordinating with authorities to arrange parking facilities in various locations across Madikeri and have already drawn the district administration's attention to the need for designated parking areas.

Kodavas and Kodava speakers from the remotest corners of Kodagu have decided to head to Madikeri, while those residing in Bengaluru, Mysuru and other cities for employment, education, and other reasons have also committed to participating in the final leg of the march.

Massive participation is expected from Bengaluru and Mysuru, with many already booking buses and taxis. Over 70 buses and 28 TT vehicles have been booked for those travelling from Bengaluru under the leadership of various Kodava organisations.

From Mysuru, over 25 buses and tempos have been booked for participants. Participants are being urged to opt for rented vehicles rather than private ones to avoid traffic congestion and to move as a unified group.

Almost all rental vehicles in Kodagu have been booked and due to high demand, additional vehicles have been arranged from Kerala, as well as from Hunsur and Periyapatna. In addition to private bus arrangements, 50 KSRTC buses have also been booked.

Street vending food zone opens at Nanjangud

Gundlupet MLA H.M. Ganesh Prasad, along with Nanjangud MLA Darshan Dhruvanarayan inaugurating the food zone for street vendors.

Nanjangud, Feb. 6 (BCT) - Gundlupet MLA H.M. Ganesh Prasad, alongside Nanjangud MLA Darshan Dhruvanarayan, inaugurated the newly constructed food zone for street vendors near the nala cover deck at Srikantapuri Layout here recently.

Later, Darshan Dhruvanarayan spoke about the initiative. He mentioned that many street vendors selling snacks like Pani Puri, Gobi Manchurian, Churumuri, and other fast foods along the roadside in various parts of the city have been provided with a designated food zone from the 5th Cross to the 10th Cross on the nala cover deck at Srikantapuri Layout by the City Municipal Council (CMC).

"To provide basic amenities to the food zone, a toilet facility has already been constructed at the cost of Rs. 10 lakh. In the coming days, facilities like drinking water, seating arrangements, CCTV cameras and other necessary basic amenities will be provided in phases. The CMC has also issued identity cards to the street vendors. Vendors are encouraged to maintain cleanliness and provide quality food to ensure public health," he added.

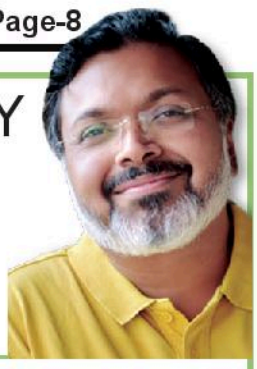
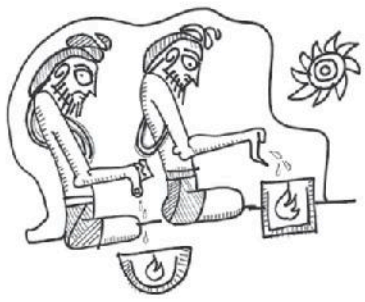
DECODING MYTHOLOGY



Dr. Devdutt Pattanaik - Author, Speaker, Illustrator, Mythologist

Kumbh Mela is more about 'Shakti' than 'Moksha'

Kumbh Mela reveals a side of Hinduism that is often not talked about. There are no temples, no gods, no devotion, no songs, no saints. It is primarily a ritual, dominated by boisterous masculine energy embodied in naked ascetics (digambara), covered with ash (bhabhut), with matted hair (jata), holding staffs (dandi), belonging to various gymnasiums (akhara), evoking the followers (gana) of the wild form of Shiva (Bhairava).



It is all about taking a dip in a particular spot in the river at the right time after it has been consecrated by bathing ascetics. We can argue that the roots are Tantrik, as it involves the body (tanu, in Sanskrit).

Such rituals happen in many parts of India, wherever ash-smeared ascetics congregate as part of rhythmic wanderings. These ascetics probably originated in east, in Terai region and challenged Vedic order which came from western Punjab region, around 1000 BC. They clashed at Gangadwar, now called Haridwar. This event is captured in the story, first narrated in Mahabharata, of ascetic Shiva beheading Daksha, the Brahmin patriarch. Since then, these ascetics (some who carry skulls) have been known by many names: Pashupata, Kapalika, Kalamukha. But they changed over time, becoming milder, influenced by later ideas like Nathism, Vaishnavism, even Sikhism. Currently, they are called Naga (from nagna or naked).

The calendar of wandering ascetics was determined by the movement of moon (every month), sun (every year) and Jupiter (every 12 years) through the Zodiac. It was known as Kumbh in Haridwar and Simhastha in Nashik when Jupiter was in Aquarius (Kumbh) and Leo (Simha) constellations. Calling all gatherings as "Kumbh" and linking it to "nectar of immortality" is a conscious branding effort that began after 1857, to reaffirm the Hindu identity, threatened by the new British regime.

The akharas typically trace their origin to Adi Shankaracharya, who played a major role in popularising Vedanta in 8th century. He opposed Buddhism, not Islam. Stories of Adi Shankara's wanderings, resistance and debates were codified much later, only in 13th century, by Brahmin scholars of Vijayanagar Empire, who saw Hinduism being threatened by the arrival of Turks from Central Asia.

The warrior-ascetic tradition of Hinduism, though ancient, became prominent after 1500 AD, in reaction to rising power of Islam. The mystical musical Sufis were mirrored by mystical musical Sants of Hinduism. The militaristic Ghazis were challenged by aggressive Nagas. These Nagas protected trading caravans and in exchange received patronage of kings and merchants. This happened in river basins of Ganga (Haridwar, Varanasi, Prayagraj, Ujjain) and upper Godavari (Nashik), which were contested zones in 18th century between waning Mughal power and waxing Maratha rule. Words like Shahi and Peshwai, reveal Persian-Maratha influence. This culture is not so prominent in South.

For ascetics, celibacy was key. As was caste, but that is currently downplayed. This celibacy was not mere renunciation of worldly life, as preached by Buddhists and Jain monks. This was about power (siddhi) obtained by retaining and ritually charging bodily fluids and then using power of mind and mantra to push fluids up the spine to germinate inside the head. Only men could do it. This granted them occult powers to walk on water, fly through the air, travel on wild animals, change shape and form, and control the minds of people. These were the original "Jedi" masters. The rituals are explicitly depicted in Tantric Buddhist art of the Himalayan region. So the warrior-ascetics were seen as containers of great power, and sought after by kings who could use them for military glory.

These medieval ideas, popular since the time of Adi Shankaracharya, are today downplayed, even forgotten. What is remembered is that the power of these warrior-ascetics is present in their bodily fluids. This is soaked by the special cow-dung ash smeared on limbs which gets washed off during the "Shahi Snan." This makes the water special — nectar-like — capable of transforming one's health and fortune. The potency is increased by the perfect alignment of stars and planets, at the grand confluence of three rivers — the Ganga, which came from the sky, the terrestrial Yamuna and the subterranean Saraswati.

The Kumbh Mela is distinctly male, ascetic, ritualistic, occult, military and royal in nature. It is about displays of Hindu power. It is about the mighty Bhairava of the mountains, the mighty Hanuman of the forests and the mighty Dattatreya of the plateaus. We can couch it with Vedic words like atma (soul) and moksha (liberation) and dharma (order), but it is primarily about siddhi (power) and shakti (power), revealed in the Tantras.

Mysuru's Classical Kannada Centre to move to Bengaluru

Union Govt. mulls shifting CESCK to State Capital after granting autonomous status

Dharmendra Pradhan

Mysuru, Feb. 6 (RK&BCT)- The Central Government is considering granting autonomy to the Centre of Excellence for Studies in Classical Kannada (CESCK), currently housed at Manasagangothri and relocating it to Bengaluru.

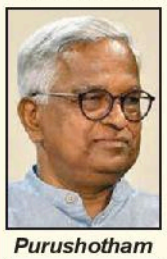
Recently, a delegation led by Kannada Development Authority (KDA) Chairman Purushotham Bilimale met Union Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan, urging him to separate CESCK from the jurisdiction of the Central Institute of Indian Languages (CIIL) and hand it over to the Karnataka State Government.

Even 16 years after Kannada was granted classical language status in 2008, CESCK still lacks its own building and remains dependent on CIIL for administrative expenses, hampering its growth. Insufficient Central Government funding has further restricted its activities.

In the light of these challenges, the delegation proposed granting autonomy to CESCK and transferring it to the Karnataka Government, following the model adopted for the Centre for Excellence in Classical Tamil in Tamil Nadu.

The temporary building which houses the Centre of Excellence for Studies in Classical Kannada (CESCK) in Manasagangothri campus.

Relocating the Centre of Excellence for Studies in Classical Kannada to Bengaluru after gaining autonomy will enhance research and development activities. Organising meetings in Bengaluru with scholars, thinkers, writers, technologists and authors will be instrumental in shaping its progress. The Kannada Development Authority will promptly submit research proposals related to classical Kannada to secure funding, as assured by the Minister. Steps will be taken in this direction and proposals will be submitted accordingly.



Purushotham

— Purushotham Bilimale, Chairman, Kannada Development Authority

Financial support assured

While the Minister reportedly assured autonomy and financial support for CESCK, he rejected the proposal to transfer it to the State Government. He clarified that the previous UPA Government had transferred the Tamil research centre for political reasons, but no other classical language institutions would be handed over to State Governments, as they fall under Central Government schemes.

All classical language centres, including Kannada, will be removed from CIIL's jurisdiction and developed as autonomous institutions under the Central Government. The Minister affirmed that the Centre would provide necessary funding to strengthen Kannada studies, research and academic initiatives.

The Minister also assured the delegation that CESCK would soon be relocated to Bengaluru, emphasising that the move would enable the CESCK to benefit from the city's robust science and technology ecosystem. He further directed the delegation to organise a meeting of scholars, thinkers, writers and technologists in Bengaluru to crowdsource suggestions for CESCK's development. The Minister assured that he would personally visit Bengaluru and chair the meeting.

Autonomy for CESCK welcomed but shifting to Bengaluru opposed

Mysuru, Feb. 6 (BCT)- At a meeting organised by the Kannada Kriya Samithi and the Kannada Shasthreeya Bhasha Horata Samithi, a resolution was passed urging the reconsideration of the relocation proposal.

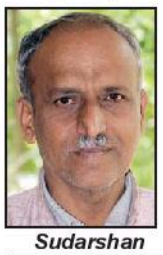
Presided over by Kannada Kriya Samithi Chairman M.G. Sadanandaiah, the meeting took place last evening at Nrupathunga Kannada School in Ramakrishnanagar. While welcoming the Union Government's decision to grant CESCK autonomy by separating it from the Central Institute of Indian Languages, members unanimously opposed its relocation.

CESCK has long been based in Mysuru, with the University of Mysore offering land for a dedicated building. Given Mysuru's scholarly heritage and academic environment, the meeting reaffirmed that it remains the ideal location.

A resolution was passed urging Union Minister Dharmendra Pradhan, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, Karnataka's Central Ministers and key Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha members to abandon the relocation plan. To plan further action, another meeting has been scheduled for 4 pm on Feb. 8 at Nrupathunga Kannada School.

Mysuru an ideal location: Kannada Kriya Samithi

Mysuru, Feb. 6 (RK&BCT)- The Kannada Kriya Samithi has welcomed the Centre's decision to grant autonomy to the Centre of Excellence for Studies in Classical Kannada (CESCK) but has urged the Government to drop plans to relocate it from Mysuru to Bengaluru.



Sudarshan

Samithi General Secretary S.R. Sudarshan stressed that Mysuru, a city of global repute, is the ideal location for CESCK, where modern technology can drive research and development. He cited a phone conversation with Kannada Development Authority Chairman Purushotham Bilimale, who confirmed recommending to the Union Minister that CESCK remain in Mysuru and assured him of reiterating the request in writing.

Sudarshan suggested that reports about the Minister proposing a technology unit in Bengaluru alongside CESCK in Mysuru may have been misinterpreted. He also recalled that when Kannada and literary groups met CM Siddaramaiah to advocate for retaining CESCK in Mysuru, the CM had agreed to their demand.

WORD OF THE DAY

Zaftig

Pronunciation: ZAHF-tig (adjective).
Meaning: Someone described as zaftig has a full, rounded figure, or in other words is pleasingly plump.
Origin: Zaftig has been in use in English — mainly in the United States — since the 1920s; a couple of the earliest known uses are found in Variety magazine, in reviews of burlesque dancers. The word comes from the Yiddish zaftik, meaning "juicy" or "succulent," which in turn comes from zaft, meaning "juice" or "sap." If this word is new to you and you would like to take it out for a spin, please be advised that even though most dictionaries define it as implying attractiveness, people to whom it might apply may not appreciate its use.
Example: "... Pablo Picasso produced an estimated 13,500 paintings, in addition to astounding quantities of drawings, prints, sculptures and ceramics. ... He veered between opposite poles of abstraction and realism, between the gaunt, poetic figures of his Blue Period and the zaftig matrons of his Rose Period, between the paper-lightness of his wildly inventive collages and the bulbous tonnage of his sculpted bronze heads." — Deborah Solomon, The New York Times, 9 Apr. 2023.

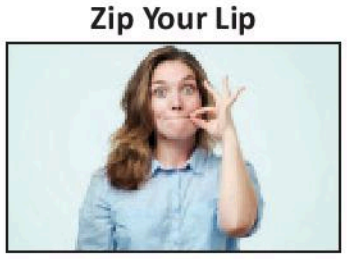
THE ODD WORD

Zenzic

Square of a number.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Zip Your Lip



Meaning: The phrase 'Zip your lip' is used to say that one should remain silent or keep a secret. To stay calm.
Origin: Earlier this phrase was used in 1868 as 'Button your lips' because during that period of time buttons were used to close things. After Zippers started being used, this phrase was modified to 'Zip your lip' by the people. The use of this phrase can be traced back to 1943.
Example: "I zipped my lip at yesterday's meeting, as there was no point in saying anything."

QUOTE BOX

I clung to each word that fell from his lips like a spider to a web.
